The tags here are asynchronous and extremely flexible. They work very well in single page applications where ad units may be dynamically injected into the page. Read more about their options and API.

Insert this anywhere in your page's HTML or template if you haven't already for another zone:

```
<script src="https://cdn.broadstreetads.com/init-2.min.js"></script>
<script>broadstreet.watch({ networkId: 229 })</script>
```

Insert this where you want the zone/ad-unit to appear:

```
<broadstreet-zone zone-id="38666"></broadstreet-zone>
```

An example with URI-segment based keyword targeting

```
<broadstreet-zone zone-id="38666" uri-keywords="true" soft-keywords="true"></broadstreet-zone>
```
